

Bessie Chapman Pierce, Who Fights For Husband

Rev. Gilbert I. Lowe, for many years a well-known New England clergyman, today pleaded guilty in the police court at Wilmamatic, Ct., of passing a bogus check and was sent to jail for thirty days.

This is the latest chapter in one of the swindling careers ever recorded in New England. The man was pastor of churches in Maine and New Hampshire and was for three years the head of a big church in Providence. There he deserted his wife and three children, as he told her, because he had another woman. He was expelled from the church for his desertion and his wife and for swindling the church out of money given to pay the church bills. He disappeared.

Other Charges Pending.
Within the past few months checks signed by him have begun to come into the Chapin National Bank of Springfield. They came from Concord, N. H.; Chicopee, Haverhill and other New England cities. It was for cashing one of those checks for the sum of 90 cents that Lowe today pleaded guilty and was sent to jail. Other charges will be awaiting him when he is released, based on the other checks.

The postoffice inspectors' office in Boston today began an investigation of the GRSP.

Charges that he has also cashed checks on banks in Boston, Haverhill, Chicago, Concord, N. H., and other New England cities have been made to the postoffice authorities.

In court to-day Lowe admitted that he is the minister who was expelled from the ministry after deserting his wife and three daughters when pastor of the Park Street Free Baptist Church in Providence.

Boys' Check for 90 Cents.
Love's trouble to Providence was in 1905, and he went to Baltimore. A year ago he reappeared in New England and was the manager in Springfield of a lead company. The checks signed by Love received by the Chapin National Bank at Springfield were all for small sums, from 25 cents to $5. Love tried to account for the checks by claiming that the company was questioned at Willimantic yesterday Love was held till the bank closed. He called on the phone. He was then arrested. It is expected that when he has served out his jail sentence in Connecticut he will be charged with other checks will be brought against him.

Love was born in Machias, Me., forty-eight years ago. He was ordained to the Methodist ministry in New Hampshire where his family had moved, and became pastor of the Methodist church at Sanford, Me. He became a Free Will Baptist and was pastor of the church at Lisbon Falls for four years. In 1902 he went to Providence, where he remained until his trouble. After his wife had complained that he had deserted her, the officials of the church found that bills which the church had given money to pay had not been paid. Then Love was expelled from the ministry.

Divorced for Desertion.
Lowe has a most engaging personality. He is a fine talker and has made considerable money in his business ventures. He has been very frank in acknowledging his wrongdoings. He frankly told his wife that he had met his "affinity," and that he could no longer love her. Then he went away with the other woman in the case. His wife divorced him.
His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Lowe, for the past few years have made their home in Haverhill.

CYCLONE KILLS MANY IN SOUTH

MOBILE, Ala., March 31.—Beleaguered reports from the section of Mouroe and Clark counties devastated by the cyclone indicate that many lives have been lost. An official from Gainsletown to-day stated that his town had been practically wiped out by the cyclone with a loss of six lives here. Forty persons were injured and scores of buildings demolished. The area of destruction extended for thirty miles around Gainsletown and many small hamlets are believed to have been completely destroyed.

HOME RULE MEANS BIG

INDUSTRIAL REVIVAL FOR IRELAND, SAYS REDMOND

Under home rule the Protestant minority in Ireland will be cheerful given all the safeguards they feel they need, consistent with ordinary democratic principles.

I know my Catholic fellow countrymen well enough to say that the Irish Protestants need no such safeguards, and I am convinced that twelve months of home rule will lay all such bogeys on the shelf forever.

Ireland, under home rule, will be very different from what some

Many of these gentlemen have held aloof because they feared or did not favor home

These men will be a great acquisition to Ireland's political life, for they will be men with whom the question of religion would never arise.

They will come largely also from the ranks of the business and commercial classes.

There is no question but the granting of home rule will be followed by an industrial revival all over Ireland.

One of the most important questions which the Irish Parliament will deal with the very beginning of its career will be the nationalization of the Irish railroads.

Bringing this about will lead to new business activities, which cannot be under the present system, or rather want of system.

As to a financial agreement between England and Ireland, the idea is quite unfounded that such a problem will be a difficult one to solve.

On the contrary, I believe an investigation will show that the ar-

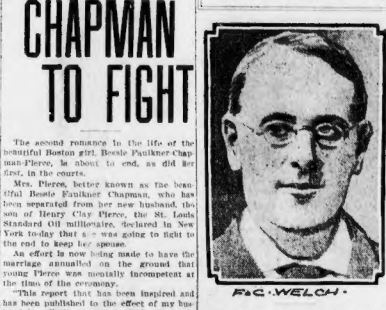

WOMAN OF 80
SAVED IN FIRE

Mrs. Rosetta J. Cunningham, eighty years old, of No. 36 Central street, Everett, became confused when she broke out in her room early today, and instead of running to the street entered a closet, where ing a woman, the woman was taken to the Krevett Hospital. A lamp is recovered at the scene. Mrs. Cunningham's sons discovered the blaze. They rushed to their mother's room to find it empty. Thinking she had made her exit, they left. The boys were told of being able to do so they went back into the home with several boxes of clothing. When they returned they found their mother unconscious in the room.

It was a big surprise to the hosts of friends of the famous beauty when the AMERICANS announced that she had been secretly married to Mrs. A. F. PIERCE.

Mrs. Pierce will soon be summoned to appear in the Supreme Court in that State in an action seeking to annul her marriage to Pierce on the ground that he was mentally irresponsible when the ceremony was performed.

Mrs. Pierce is now living with her mother, Mrs. Pauline, at No. 320 West Fifty-ninth Husband in a Sanitarium.

From the day the young man confessed to his father his secret marriage to the fascinating woman of romantic history he has never seen his bride. He is a patient in the sanitarium of Dr. Carlos F. MacDonald, the alienist, in Central Valley, N. Y. Mrs. MacDonald, when asked over the telephone about her husband, referred his questioner to former Justice Alton B. Parker, counsel for Henry Clay

Young Pierce's wife is known to society in Boston, New York, London, Paris, Berlin and Rome. She is the daughter of a noted canvas by noted painter, John Lewis Faulkner of Boston, she married T. Mrs. Chapman divorced him. She went on the stage, appearing under Belasco's management as understudy for Henrietta Crossman in "Sweet Kitty Bellairs." She also played a part regularly in the production, and was to have been starred in

Then Miss Chapman went abroad, but only having died meanwhile. Her career was picturesque because of the indignation she received. Most famously in her trials as ardent sailor was the Baroness Emma Gräfinde de Kottbusch, son and daughter of the Emperor of Austria, who was captured by the captured Sir Alfred Dreyfus, in London, in 1895.

But in Paris there appeared another militant—young Pierce. He had known Sacco and was acquainted with her for about two years. And of a sudden, while all the respectable youth of Europe were talking about the certainty of Baron Jimenez's marriage to the American beauty, she departed for her native land as its heroine, 1919. TEST FOR SAFETY
BALTIMORE, March 21.—With the wind blowing a gale, Clarence K. Rolando, the Baltimore inventor, today made an attempt to demonstrate the safety of his aerial life preserver. He leaped from the top of the 171-foot-high elevator at the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad at Locust Point and landed on the board wharf on the water.

SOCIETY COLUMN MRS. RICHARDS

Officials and instructors at Tech, who generally and workers for the betterment of women and the home ministry to day the death of Mrs. Ellen B. Richards for twenty-five years member of the Tech family and the foremost woman reformer in this hemisphere, it is not in the world's heart at her home, No. 22 Eliot street, Jamaica Plain, after a short illness from heart disease.

In the intimate world Mrs. Richards was regarded as one of the greatest experts on matters relating to food, water and air. Her investigation of the water supply of Massachusetts was the most important study in public sanitation ever undertaken by a woman. Mrs. Richards was not content as a suffragette, but she was active in the cause of women. Her work was always practical. It was her aim to make homes brighter, better and more livable and her work in editing the Boston Herald was held in the highest regard.

Some of Her Good Works.

Here are a few of the things Mrs. Richards did:

Took a first prize for baking bread when she was thirteen years old.

Edited Harvard.

Author of more than a dozen highly regarded scientific treatises.

Pioneered for national training for girls as well as boys.

Fought against waste, uneconomicalness and needless in the home.

Trigged that "higher education" be made to apply to the family and the home.

Championed the cause of the over-worked housewife and the tired girl.

Pioneered for greater simplicity in living and declared that "the more you have, the more you want."

Incidentally proved that the average American family wastes half its food.

Praised Her Diet.

Trained half our digestive life to the American method of eating food in fact, because that American people are used to eating the food that is the best for the body.

Assured that the "nutritional" system of the present.

Called that 10,000 people are needed to live on the food that is the best for the body.

Her ideas for remodeling conditions in homes and making them more comfortable have taken up by many people.

Her ideas are shown to be practical and have been followed by many people.

She showed that no dish for the quantity and quality of food that is the best for the body.

BOY SUICIDE BURIED TO-DAY

All Boston turned out today for the funeral of Louis Hoffer, the sixteen-year-old boy who hanged himself in the Concord Reformatory. This tragic ending of a boy's life has previously stirred the community, and the sympathy of everybody is given to his heart-broken parents, sisters and brothers.

The suicide of John Newman, fourteen years old, while locked in solitary confinement in a steel cage in the Lyman School, caused a legislative inquiry. That was on May 28th last year.

Young Hoffer was the sixth suicide in Concord prison in twenty-five years. Like the Newman lad, Hoffer was a home-sick boy, but for a different reason. He was charged with the murder of a woman, and he was the last of a long line of boys who have been sent to Concord Reformatory on July 1st.

Father to Ask Investigation.
The father of the boy said to-day: "Yes, they blamed my boy for many things. They said he was hard to control at home, but most of the neighbors have noticed me they had no difference with him. The lad was mischievous, many boys are, yet they are not sent to the reformatory. I am sure my boy was not a bad boy. I am sure he was not a serious crime."

Neither was it a terrible offense at the reformatory, where they say he found a case of soap in a fence, and he was to play a tune on a piano with tissue paper draped over it.

He was a sensitive lad. The spring of a day would come in winter he would cry. He was a sensitive lad. The spring of a day would come in winter he would cry. He was a sensitive lad. The spring of a day would come in winter he would cry.

Mr. Hoffer is employed on High street, Boston, in a crated position, and is a highly respected head of a well-known family. The home on Park street, Boston, is near Melrose Highlands.

Here is what a neighbor says of the dead boy:

Neighbor Praises Boy.

"The lad was mischievous. He was sensitive. He might, under some circumstances, have been a police officer. Yet I have heard a woman chide him for some minor thing and have seen him burst into tears. That he exploded a bag of water on the head of the Melrose Reformatory was forgivable in the eyes of most of us. It was a psychological incident. The fire charred his head, his accounts were burning, his property was burning. He was a sensitive lad. The spring of a day would come in winter he would cry."

"None of us wanted to see him on earth. We could get along with him well enough."

HOW TO SUCCEED Depends Entirely on Superior Merit and Knowledge

During the last few years, conditions in all lines of business, even professional life, have changed so completely that every man is waking up to the fact that in order to win success he must specialize and learn to do some one thing and do it well.

So it is with any article that is sold to the people. It must have genuine merit or no amount of advertising will maintain the demand for the article. For many years we have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy. From the very beginning the proprietors had so much confidence in it that they invited every one to test it, free of cost, before purchasing.

It is a physician's prescription. They have on file thousands of letters received from former sufferers who are now enjoying good health as a result of its use.

However, if you wish first to try a sample bottle, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and mention this paper. They will gladly forward you a sample bottle by mail, absolutely free. Sold at druggists in bottles of two sizes—fifty cents and one dollar.

KIPLING PENS ANIMAL PLAY

LONDON, March 31.—Richard Kipling has written his first play, but for some reason the matter is being kept a profound secret. Neither title nor plot is revealed, but the fact that it is an animal play is known. Kipling's most intimate friends, the characters and places from the " Jungle Book," but the play cannot be called a dramatization of that work, as the characters are not followed and animals resemble a costumed and acted as being selected.

BODY FOUND IN CAPITAL RUINS

ALBANY, March 31.—Workmen digging among the ruins of the capital west wing today found the body of Samuel J. Alcott, the State Library spokesman, on the floor. The search for the body thousands of barrels of bricks and fragments were removed. Alcott, whose body was found up by the wind and wafted through the capital ruins, was found in the ruins of the State Library, during the fire for bricks and falling to the street thousands of feet away from the fire damaged building.

MAINE SWINGS TO INCOME TAX

ALBANY, N. Y., March 31.—Governor Frederick W. Plaford received numerous congratulations from all over the country today for his vigorous action in swinging the Maine Legislature to passing the income tax.

The work of the Governor showed that the state's idea in the estimation of the voters of both parties pointed with pride to their platform, in which they pledged themselves to favor of the proposed federal income tax amendment.

During the campaign, which resulted in the Democratic victory in Maine the voters of both parties pointed with pride to their platform, in which they pledged themselves to favor of the proposed federal income tax amendment.

Legislators Backed Down.
But somewhat or other when the main issue of the two Houses and here and there to talk things over on the hill they were averse to the proposed amendment and declined to favor of a State income tax. It was well known where the Governor stood on the matter, but in spite of this the House actually voted against the proposed federal amendment.

This was a vote for the Senate, which, apparently, as did the House on the question.

As yesterday the Senate took the matter up and quickly voted to come in the support of the House, it certainly looked as though the Federal income tax amendment was bound for this year at least.

It is however thought as had it been up the Democratic Governor correctly. When the same result was held the Governor called some of the leaders of both parties together and he gave them a little plain talk, straight from the shoulder.

Governor Isn't Talking.
Just what the Governor said and how it came to where he talked into fact, and when the Governor was asked about it, he simply smiled. But there is a general impression that Governor Plaford is not alone in his position, and that many of the legislators about the capital are not alone in their position.

The people up in this section today are saying, "Well, Plaford is a little stronger."

CITY DELEGATION TO STUDY CHICAGO

Action on the proposition of Miss Bertha Schuch, principal of the Quincy Evening School, Mayor Fitzgerald appointed a delegation to visit Chicago the coming week to investigate new school ventilation systems there. The delegates are Charles H. Perkins of the Schoolhouse Committee, Dr. Thomas E. Harrington and Mr. Evered of the sanitation department, Miss A. Pettigrew, superintendent of the park department, and Richard M. Walsh and Francis M. Carroll of the bath department. The Mayor may accompany the delegation.

GETS A WEEK TO PAY FINE

"You Honor, I haven't any money with me and pay your indulgence to allow me to get it," said Joseph Edwards of Providence to Judge Pratt in the Municipal Court today after he had been fined $5 for disorderly conduct and $25 for creating a disturbance during a performance of the show.

"You Honor," at the Mayor's Theatre last night.

"It will give you till April 7 to raise the money," added the court.

Edwards spent last night in the Lagrange street police station after two policemen had passed him from his seat in the audience during the fourth act of the play.

Mr. Edwards had asked that he be released.

According to the books and exact figures which showed the performance there have several complaints of the conduct of the show made to the show effort and the officers. Twice through the fourth act of the play Edwards had been in the audience and had been in the audience.

In this act he talked directly at Mrs. Pratt and continually pointed his finger at her. She tolerated it for a time, but eventually was forced to call for the guard.

Chief Blackjacked: Waiter is arrested.

James S. Jones, twenty-nine years old, employed as a clerk at the Tourist Hotel, at No. 50 Tremont street, Roxbury, is at the City Hospital in a serious condition from contusions of the brain and a serious scalp wound, the result of being hit over the head with a blackjack.

Henry Dwyer, a waiter in the same hotel, is held as a suspicious person, pending the result of Jones's injuries. Jones told the police that Dwyer had hit him over the head with a blackjack during a quarrel.

MISS SCHEFF WILL SING TO-MORROW

Eliza Scheff's phylaxian says that she will be glad to resume her performance of the new Victor Herbert comic opera at the Shubert Theatre to-morrow night. This will be the first performance since the opening, Monday evening.

REGAL SHOE STORE, Cor. Tremont and Court Streets

Tomorrow a new Regal Shoe Store for Men and Women opens at 175-A Tremont Street, next door to the Tremont Theatre and only a few steps from Boylston Street.

At the corner of Tremont and Court Streets, right at Scollay Square, is another Regal Shoe Store—exclusively for men—which was opened recently.

These two new Regal Stores are our answer to the demand for a more convenient distribution of Regal Shoes here in Boston. They are of the same characteristic type as the Regal Store for Men and Women at 109 Summer Street.

Every convenience that the purchaser of footwear desires is provided at each of these Regal Stores. Their service is the kind that has made Regal Stores famous everywhere.

Expert salesmen will show you the newest fashion-ideas in Spring shoes—correct models reproduced directly from custom-made styles for this season. Regal fit and wear are the standard of the world.

Regals At Cost Plus 5%

The price you pay for Regal Shoes is cost of manufacture, plus 5% and the cost of selling. In no other make of shoes does your money go so far, or give you as large value. The price of every Regal Shoe is stamped on the sole at the Regal factory, and is certified by chartered public accountants.

BOY CRAWFORD TO LEARN A B C'S

Daniel McKean, twelve years old, of Chelsea, who knows all about him, but has forgotten his A B C's because of forced attention to the duties of a letter carrier, has been learning the letters of the alphabet in the district of the Chelsea police authorities. He attended school today for the first time in the district, and he took a letter in the morning from the Chelsea police authorities.

AFTER-EFFECTS OF ACUTE FEVERS

It Was Not Until He Tried the Tonic Treatment That His Health Was Restored.

Many whose health has been wrecked by an attack of typhoid, scarlet or diphtheria or of the grip, will be interested in the manner in which one sufferer found relief from the condition in which the acute attack left him. Mr. J. A. Kephart, now living at No. 211 Richmond street, Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "About six years ago I had typhoid fever while working in a lumber camp near Alton, Ill. The disease left my bowels in such a condition that the doctors told me I could not be cured. My bowels were inactive and bloated. I had to take strong laxatives all of the time but even that did not give me relief. My appetite was good but what I ate did me no good. I was dizzy and frequently would topple over while walking along the street. I was treated by several doctors and tried many kinds of medicines but nothing helped me until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I gave them a good trial with the result that my bowels became regular. My blood soon became in good condition and I have been well ever since."

The symptoms shown when the health is wrecked by the attack of an acute disease differ in almost every case but the condition is one which calls emphatically for a tonic for the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best medicine for this purpose for they act directly on the blood which they cleanse of all impurities.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured anemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness, after-effects of the grip and fever, and neuritis, owing to their blood-building property. These pills were originally a prescription used in the doctor's private practice and they have it to maintain has been increased many thousand-fold by their being placed on general sale with the doctor's directions for use.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

OPEN FOR MONEY TRUST NOTCH PURCHASE

Total deposits last Saturday of three Morgan-Ryan-Standard Oil Bank of Commerce—$182,211,400.
First National—$113,517,700.
Total deposits in all other banks in New York clearing house—$1,000,000.

Total capital of the 46 other national banks—$200,000,000.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—The Department of Justice is preparing an attack on the money trust, as represented by the Morgan-Ryan-Standard Oil Bank of New York and their allies.

As the Morgan-Ryan-Standard Oil Bank of New York and their allies, the Department of Justice, under Attorney-General Wickham, believe that the financial trust is the father of the trusts and the great New York banks.

The Attorney-General told one of his clerks today that he considered the situation the greatest economic problem of the world; that the so-called unlawful combinations had grown faster than the law, and that the anti-trust status of the present time cannot hope to keep pace with all the conditions they are expected to remedy.

Forging New Weapon.

The Attorney-General is busy forging a new weapon to deal with monopolies of trade and combinations of capital, which he hopes to present to Congress to the effect that it will be incorporated into the statute of the government. He is now working on the money trust, which he holds in contempt and which he regards as the most powerful of the trusts. He is also working on the money trust, which he holds in contempt and which he regards as the most powerful of the trusts.

In dealing at our new store for women, you have every assurance that the style and wearing quality of the shoes you buy will prove satisfactory.

This assurance is merely our idea of what constitutes business sagacity. We claim nothing either for our unbreakable rule that "every pair of shoes sold here is guaranteed to be satisfactory" in the ordinary acceptance of that much abused term.

Fire Escapes for City Hall. The Seattle has passed a bill granting the city a $100,000 appropriation for the purchase of fire escapes. The bill is now before the city council and is expected to be passed within a few days. The bill is a result of a long and hard fight by the fire department and the city council to secure the necessary funds for the purchase of the escapes. Protection for Army Lodgers.

Formerly occupied as a factory, the Leveaux Army building is an old, rambling structure, about sixty feet high, with a frontage on Hampshire street of 50 feet and extending back to the street more than 200 feet. There is no fire escape in the building and no fire alarm. The north doors are closed

The army officials have agreed to better protect the bombers.

After a conference between the Mayor, Fire Control Tower Only and Building Commissioner Everett, they did not intend to refer to the riot police the day of the shooting on Market street at the basement floor of the building. The lower floors were closed off by the fire department and the upper floors were used as a temporary headquarters for the Army Artillery Association which was there during the riot.

A cartoon illustration depicting a man in a suit and hat running away from a large, dark, cloud-like shape that resembles a bomb or explosion. The man is looking back over his shoulder with a worried expression. The drawing is done in a simple, sketchy style.
